Dear Marlon Merraro,

I trust that you, your family and all at Peacebuilders Canada are doing well during these difficult and unprecedented times. The National Basketball League of Canada (NBL Canada) strongly believes in building strong and healthy communities that are safe for all and its for this reason why we proudly support and endorse the service and efforts of Peacebuilders Canada.

With our communities all implementing social distancing and closures of businesses, schools and other important social institutions to minimize the spread of COVID-19 we understand the impact the current conditions have on those client who Peacebuilders serve directly.

NBL Canada supports the efforts of Peacebuilders Canada as they continue to provide online individual and group services to the city's most vulnerable young people during this challenging period. It is our firm belief that working together is our best approach in overcoming this common threat. And it's for this reason why NBL Canada proudly stands alongside Peacebuilders Canada.

With gratitude and admiration we look forward to your future success.
